

Emergency management

A free information session

Friday
 24 November 2017
 Hyatt Regency Perth
 99 Adelaide Terrace,
 East Perth

Who should attend?

Those who have functions and responsibilities for planning, designing, implementing and maintaining emergency response systems are encouraged to attend this information session organised by Department of Mines, Industry Regulation and Safety's Resources Safety Division.

What is it about?

This free information session will cover the:

- importance of incident management and emergency response
- progress of the draft Emergency management code of practice
- Department's commitment to emergency preparedness.

Attendees are also invited to tour the Mining Emergency Response Competition (MERC) venue.

How do you register?

- Although there is no registration fee, pre-registration is required to reserve a place.
- Email your registration to RSDEvents@dmirs.wa.gov.au indicating your name, company, contact details and any special requirements (e.g. dietary or other).
- Early registration is recommended. Seats are limited and places are subject to availability and a place is not guaranteed.
- If you register and subsequently are not able to attend, please advise us as soon as possible at RSDEvents@dmirs.wa.gov.au or 08 9358 8154.
- Morning tea will be provided.

Program

Time	Topic
8.00 am	Registration
8.30 am	Housekeeping
8.35 am	Welcome from the State Mining Engineer
8.45 am	Towards 2020 and the Department's commitment to emergency preparedness
9.05 am	Emergency management code of practice and the emergency preparedness audit
9.25 am	Ensuring alignment of emergency management systems with AIIMS Framework
9.45 am	Morning tea and networking
10.10 am	Dangerous goods and emergency response
10.30 am	MERC – not just a competition
10.50 am	Closing remarks
11.00 am	Invitation to tour MERC venue
1.00 pm	Close